

You fall over in the playground and twist your ankle, after a few days it is still painful....

Where would you go for medical help?

You fell and bumped your head, you passed out for 30 seconds, you have a nasty cut on your head and feel confused.....

Where would you go for medical help?

You have had a cold for a few days, your nose is blocked, and you have a sore throat.....

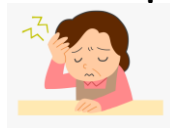

Where would you go for medical help?

You were riding your bike and you fell off; you look at your arm and can tell you have broken a bone....

Where would you go for medical help?

You have had a headache for a day, you have eaten and drunk lots of water, but it is still painful...

Where would you go for medical help?

After a day out in the park you notice a rash on your arm, it is slightly itchy...

Where would you go for medical help?

You have had an ache in your back for a week, you have taken painkillers, but it hasn't helped very much...

Where would you go for medical help?

You went out for dinner last night and this morning you have tummy ache, feel sick and have runny poo!!!.....

Where would you go for medical help?

You notice your toe is very swollen, it is hot, red and there is white puss coming from under your toenail.....

Where would you go for medical help?

You have had a bad earache for a few days, it is starting to make your neck and throat hurt.....

Where would you go for medical help?

In cooking you cut your finger with a sharp knife....it is a deep cut; it won't stop bleeding and a plaster is not stopping it...

Where would you go for medical help?

You have very bad chest pain, you are clammy, look pale and are finding it hard to breathe...

Where would you go for medical help?